

STRATHCONA NEWS

STRATHCONA COUNCIL HAS A MIDNIGHT SESSION.

Alarming Discovery Made That Strathcona Granted to Interest of Heating and Heating Co. is Invalid as the Bylaw and Agreement Are Not in Harmony.

From eight o'clock last night till after midnight the city council of Strathcona, with all present but Ald. Buck and Richards were in session and the representatives of the International Lighting and Heating Co., Chief Engineer Harper, and Solicitor Chase, A. H. Jones, were present, some to discuss the passing of a new bylaw granting another franchise to the company in place of the one that lapses on Dec. 1st. It was a tight session for the city council but not so for the representatives of the company. It was impossible to have it held open at the annual election on December 10th. As the evening wore on and slow progress was made in consideration of the bylaw it became evident that it could not be finished last night. Several of the aldermen offered to sit through till morning but the suggestion did not meet with general approval. At 12:15 the meeting adjourned with three of the five aldermen and the new agreement signed and there will be another session tonight.

In the early morning of last night's meeting it appeared as if the business would not take up much time. The council asked that a new bylaw, extending the old franchise a year be passed and to this the council agreed. The company offered to assume all liability should the bylaw be refused and to be aware of the old being submitted to the ratifiers.

Old Bylaw Invalid.
Further investigation and comparison of the old bylaw and agreement revealed an alarming condition however. There was considerable variance between the two when they should have been in complete harmony. The city solicitor, Mr. Jones, and the company's solicitor, Mr. Chase, discussed all responsibility for the matter, the former saying he was out of town when the bylaw was passed and the latter stating that he did not represent the company when the agreement was made. The council decided to renege put a new clause on the whole question and Mr. Grant on behalf of the company refused to accept the bylaw as he had earlier in the meeting agreed to. Meanwhile Mr. Hoffman who represents Wood, Lundy & Co., Toronto, and other parties, capitulated not quietly but mildly.

New Bylaw Necessary.
There was nothing to do but under the circumstances put a new bylaw and the council was asked to pass it. The council on a draft that Mr. Grant had prepared for an emergency such as had arisen. It was not as good a law, however, as anticipated. Ald. Harper especially pointed out a weakness in the bylaw.

"It was quite prepared to grant an extension of the old franchise but not that we have a new agreement I will not on better conditions."

The old agreement was a rotten one and I don't propose to allow the rights to be given away again," he said. And when the council was asked to give the company power to lay mains on any unimproved streets that they wished cause to be made erections according to giving the company the full control of the streets.

"It is a question of whether the city or the company should control the streets and I don't propose to give in if I sit here till morning," he said. "I would like to see the council's representatives in a tentative clause in accordance with his wishes."

But time passed swiftly by and it became evident that the agreement could not be got through in one sitting. It was suggested that the council should meet next morning but Mr. Harper argued that the new bylaw be put through as quickly as possible in order that it might not be unnecessarily defeated. It was decided to adjourn till the morning.

The First Consideration.
When the council met last night the question of gas franchise first came up by the report of the city solicitor as asked for at Tuesday's meeting.

City Solicitor Jones presented a written report on the question of whether it was necessary to submit a bylaw extending the term of the International Lighting and Heating Co.'s franchise for one year. His opinion was that such a course was necessary but he also stated that in his opinion if a new bylaw was passed by the council as he proposed to be ultra vires the city would incur no liability.

C. A. Grant, solicitor for the company, said in view of the solicitor's opinion that the city could not be liable in any case, that all that remained for the council to do was to grant the extension of its life by doing so.

Ald. Bailew asked if the company would be responsible for repairs to pavements should such be laid down by the gas mains were put down. He was informed by the engineer that the company would be liable.

Mr. Cameron thought that a clause should be added to the agreement providing the company from laying mains in streets that had been previously laid by the company stated that his principles would be quite willing to agree to the new agreement, also asked, he also expressed his willingness to give a bond for the faithful performance of the agreement.

Second Company Heard From.
Mr. Hoffman, the representative of the capitalists, also spoke. He did not represent any organized company for the purpose of doing business in Edmonton and Strathcona but he did represent a body of capitalists who were anxious to do business in both cities. He simply asked for a delay in order that his principles might come into the field for equal competition with the International Lighting and Heating Co. The city of Strathcona had everything to gain and nothing to lose by delay in this matter.

The entire body granting the franchise was read by the secretary and was as discussed at some length by the council.

Discrepancies Found.
The city solicitor said it was his duty to point out that there was considerable variance between the bylaw and the agreement signed by the company and the city subsequent thereto. He outlined a number of those differences and stated one case where an entire clause of the bylaw was omitted from the agreement. In view of those differences it was a question for the applicants to decide if the bylaw was omitted from the agreement. Mr. Grant said he had never seen the agreement until the last night. In view of those differences it was now a matter of opinion with him whether the franchise was a valid one. He did not mind drawing up the previous bylaw and to this the council agreed.

The city solicitor also declined the responsibility for the discrepancies but leaves the ball and the agreement. He was out of town at the time the matter was up for consideration.

New Bylaw Submitted.
After a further discussion Mr. Grant expressed his willingness to let the city council decide on the matter. He said he was in favor of submitting a new bylaw to the people or of allowing the matter to stand as it was. It was found out whether cheaper gas could be obtained.

Ald. Bailew thought if the International Lighting and Heating Company's request for a franchise be considered at this meeting the action was correct. The council then went into committee of the whole on the new bylaw which had been framed by Mr. Grant. Till after midnight the council discussed the continued and the adjournment till tonight was made.

Revision of the tariff to be considered early in March.

Washington, Nov. 19.—That a special session of the sixty-first congress will be called soon after March 4 to take up the matter of tariff revision, became known positively yesterday that William H. Taft, president-elect, after spending the day at the White House in the guest of President Roosevelt, stated that he intended to call the special session to meet as soon after his inauguration as would be reasonable.

When his attention was called to the hearings now being held by the ways and means committee of the house looking toward the revision of the tariff, Mr. Taft said that now he was asking for a revision of the tariff to come forward and produce their arguments. He was asked if he had noticed the references by Democrats on the committee in his views in regard to the tariff on products of the Philippines.

"Yes, but the remarks were not frightening, nor will," he replied. "My experience with the Democrats in regard to the tariff is that they want to raise it from everything that is in the next country."

Carry Out Promise.
The President-elect stated that the Republican party had promised to call a special session of congress to take up the tariff, and that he intended to do so. He said that he had no intention of raising the tariff on products of the Philippines.

The day proved to be a busy one for the President-elect. During the afternoon the President and President-elect discussed matters of importance.

Following the various conferences of the day, Judge Taft talked freely about his plans for the immediate future.

After spending two or three days in New York, he will again visit Mr. Taft at his residence. On December 7 he will be in Washington on his way to New York, where he will attend a meeting of the North Carolina Society of that city.

While here, he and Mrs. Taft will be the guests of Mrs. Mahal Boardman, who has been active for several years in the cause of the Philippines.

This visit to Washington will be limited to three or four days, after which the President-elect and Mrs. Taft will be the guests of H. W. Taft and family in New York. They will leave for Augusta, Ga., on the evening of December 16, or the morning of December 17, where they will stay for a month and a half. Further than that, no definite plans have been made.

Men Who Deserted Chinese Now on This Side of Border.

Buffalo, Nov. 19.—The three alleged smugglers, whose motorboat, allied with contraband Chinamen, was wrecked on the breakwater in Lake Erie, off the foot of Michigan street, are known to the police, and federal officers are working on the case. The description of the men, furnished by Ralph White, night watchman on the large Atlas, and other facts gathered during the chase, clearly established the identity of the men, who, after leaving the boat, left the boat in the hands of the Chinese.

It is also known that the alleged smugglers have escaped the dragnet thrown out for them in this city and are in the Canadian side of Niagara River.

There is some question as to the power of the government to bring men back from Canada if they are captured. The office of aiding and abetting the illegal entrance of Chinamen into the United States is not extraditable. District Attorney Abner has taken cognizance of the case, and it is possible a charge of manslaughter will be brought against them.

"They have, with admiring vigor," says the paper, "Father Elkins' remark that in fifty years there will not remain any memory in Europe; they have with profound satisfaction and statement made by the late president of the daughters of the American Revolution that one American girl is worth exactly five dollars, and they have with lively disgust the assertion of the illustrious Mr. Rogers, president of the Chicago Theological Society, that in this young lady there is the revived soul of one of the Roman Emperors, or at least the soul of a lady-in-waiting in the court palaces of the Caesars."

"All this sort of thing," complains the writer in La Stampa, "is well enough for the marriage of 'Rockefeller XIV.' or Prince Astor of Corral Red," but Europe considers it beneath contempt for the marriage of a girl, to say nothing of a valiant prince, who has carved out a superb place for himself in the annals of modern heroism. It was well enough," he says, to have a little fun over the young lovers for the moment, but this spirit in America has gone too far and constitutes an insult to every Italian. With the paradoxical rights of Mark Twain and the brazenness of Buffalo Bill," concludes the writer, "the American press entertains the public every day with a new list of celebrities."

AMERICAN PRESS INDELECTABLE.
Absurdities.
Turin, Italy, Nov. 19.—"The Italian public has tolerated with infinite patience this far, the foolish behavior of the American press over the Albrun marriage," declares the most influential paper of Northern Italy, La Stampa, in a long leading article, which concludes with the suggestion that Miss Elkins should be put to rest by the public and her real lover. It adds that perhaps she can put a stop to the "sensationalism" lies circulating in America—such for instance, as that the Duke is a fortune hunter, while as a matter of fact, he inherited a large part of the great fortune left by his mother, and also that she may suppress further rights of the American imagination on the subject of the match to which, La Stampa continues, "Italians listen with infinite amazement."
